Keeping Things in Perspective

Continual success in life is reflected in great part by being able to readily and effectively address whatever day-to-day business or personal matters that arise -- something which can always be aided by learning how to increase our individual and collective productivity and/or knowledge transfer processes and actions.

No one can be an expert at everything, and each of us should continually search for new and better ways of doing things. Finding out more about products and services offered by numerous other productivity-related companies is another facet of what Scsi enjoys sharing with anyone who visits the Scsi P&KT Web site.

Once you have finished browsing through the productivity hyperlinks, as well as any other included hyperlinks that you'll encounter within the Scsi site, you are heartily encouraged to expand your vistas and garner additional insights from other professionals in their respective fields.

Choose from among the hyperlinks provided on this Web page to begin this process. Scsi's general recommendation is that you set aside some time to visit each of the Web sites cited here for noteworthy productivity-related resources.

Why does Scsi make these "go elsewhere" recommendations?

This suggestion is made for two reasons in particular:

1. The content presented will be centered around a particular area of expertise
 2. More specific or up-to-date information will almost always be found at primary sources.

Web Site Marketing-related Services

Listed below (in alphabetical-by-Web-site-name order) are just a few companies that offer various kinds of marketing expertise, oftentimes related to Web sites.

- Bruce Clay's Web site at Bruceclay.com states (in part) that it offers "Information, tips, and helpful hints for people performing internet marketing: Search Engine Optimization (SEO), Search Engine Marketing (PPC), running an analytics project, interested in e-Mail as an advertising medium, and interested in traffic through and branding activities.... Internet marketing is hard, technical, detailed work, but we offer everything you need to succeed." Scsi recommends that you visit Bruce Clay's Web site to check it out for yourself.
- Futurenowinc.com concentrates on conversion rate marketing and invented the methodology called Persuasion Architecture.[™]
- Larrychase.com offers marketing, consulting, and speaking services, along with an always well-written and informative newsletter from his Web Digest For Marketers Web site. Scsi recommends you frequently visit Larry's Web sites and access his numerous marketing-related articles and books, as you are certain to find a goldmine of useful information every time you do.
- Visit marketingsherpa.com if you want to access or subscribe to marketing-related articles [all written exclusively "in-house", by the way], reports, and timely marketing-related information. As their Web site states, "MarketingSherpa, Inc. is a media company publishing useful Case Studies, results data, and best practices for marketing, advertising, and public relations professionals. We also run SherpaStore, an online bookstore featuring "best of" benchmark guides, buyer's guides, event tickets, and instructional manuals for marketers." Scsi has found this Web site to be one that is worth revisiting often.
- Mikemor.com and Global Strategies International are the respective Web sites of Mike Morgan and Bill Hunt, co-authors of the book, Search Engine Marketing, Inc.: Driving Search Traffic to Your Company's Web Site. ISBN: 0-13-185292-2, IBM Press. -- a no-nonsense book about developing and implementing a search marketing program in your business.
- As stated on their highly informative Web site, "Prophet is the go-to firm for senior executives demanding brand, marketing, and innovation investments that work harder -- and smarter." Scsi knows that you will profit from making that on-line visit often.

- Webcopyplus states, "We maintain strategic partnerships with branding, information technology and online marketing experts to ensure you benefit from leading edge webcopy techniques." Scsi especially recommends that you visit the Webcopyplus collection of articles Web page that provides an index of hyperlinks to many informative articles related to the Web, its content, and the continuing evolution of the digitally written word.
 - Wilsonweb.com claims that it "offers the Web's largest source of key information about doing business on the Net."

Web Site Testing Tools and Certification Services

Gibson Research

- Provides numerous software and hardware utility testing programs, such as SpinRite, ShieldsUp!, and LeakTest, among others
- Discusses technical details at length and explains things most clearly

Paessler GMBH

- On the Paessler GMBH Web site is the statement, "We believe that good quality software should make complicated issues easy to understand and should make processes simpler, easier, and more efficient for the user."
- In particular, Scsi encourages you to examine their Web site testing and analysis tools, including Site Inspector Version 4 which Scsi uses regularly and considers to be an exemplary productivity tool for quickly assessing individual Web pages.
- Paessler GMBH's other software products include Webserver Stress Tool, Network Monitoring tools, as well as E-mail and Spam Management software.

TotalValidator

- On Andy Halford's Total Validator Web site is the statement, "Total Validator is a free one-stop validator or all-in-one validator comprising a HTML validator, an accessibility validator, a spelling validator, a broken links validator, and the ability to take screenshots with different browsers to see what your web pages really look like."
- Scsi encourages you to examine Total Validator as a tool for quickly assessing individual Web pages.
- Be sure to visit the Total Validator Web site for further information and latest updates available. Donations to support further development are encouraged.

Lionbridge's Veritest Division

- Provides outsourced software and hardware testing services for quality assurance, load, and usability
- Offers access to an archive of highly informative reports and references

Websiteoptimization.com

- Websiteoptimization.com's Web Page Analyzer (currently, it is batch-enabled Version 0.98) is a free one-page-at-a-time testing service that does what is stated by the author on that particular Web page: "Test your web site speed with our free web-based analyzer. Enter a URL below to calculate page size, composition, and page download time. The script calculates the size of individual elements and finds the total for each type of web page component. Based on these page characteristics the script then offers advice on how to improve page display time and website speed." The latest version offers color-coded results to really grab your attention as to "How am I doing?" regarding the quality of your Web page, at least speedwise.
 - If you or someone in your company has an interest in finding out about licensing the Web Page Analyzer tool, Scsi recommends that you visit the Licensing the Web Page Analyzer Web page for specific details about licensing matters and availability of other optimization-related services that might be applicable to your particular situation.
 - What's the bottom line here? Scsi suggests that you commit a few moments of your time to give Websiteoptimization.com's "Web Page Analyzer" Web-based tool a hands-on tryout. You will undoubtedly become convince that this tool definitely fills an obvious void in quantitatively assessing a Web page's overall composition, doing so both quickly and easily, and providing a number of useful quantitative assessments, along with a summary of suggested guidelines for what improvements can and should be made as applicable.
